

P2PStaking.org : Bitcoin Resource PDF (Ready to Print & Gift)

If you're getting Bitcoin (or just a few sats), the best add-on is knowledge.

This resource list is designed to be printable, shareable, and easy to explore, whether the recipient is a total beginner or a future protocol dev.

We focus mainly on Bitcoin as a long-term store of value, but in most cases you can apply the same learning path to other cryptocurrencies in a similar way.

Beginners

If you're a complete beginner, we strongly recommend starting with Andreas M. Antonopoulos's videos. His talks are clear, non-technical, and give you a solid foundation in why Bitcoin matters before you dive into articles, docs, or the whitepaper.

Secure your Bitcoin (or Crypto) with a Cold Wallet

Ledger leader on hardware wallets market provides affordable Nano S and Nano X which provide great security for most cryptocurrencies. Price : $50 - $90

Trezor is open source hardware wallet which secure most crypto. We like Safe 3 ($79) and Safe 5 ($169).

Bitbox could be the best for bitcoiners-only (~ $150).
